Jarod Feathers

Jarod Feathers graduated from Conemaugh Township in 2001. After graduation, Jarod attended Cal U for four years. During these four years, he worked towards earning his undergraduate degree in elementary education. He then attended Gannon to earn his master's in curriculum and instruction. After that, he taught fifth grade at the Conemaugh Township Elementary School. Not long after, he got his principal certification at IUP. Currently, Jarod is the assistant principal and athletic director at Conemaugh Township High School.

Jarod resides in Davidsville with his wife, Jackie, and their two daughters. Out of all the teachers he had at Conemaugh Township, Ms. DeBarto was his favorite. He states, "She had really good TDA explanations and always explained everything very well." She kept him on his toes and made sure he was always doing the right thing. Jarod states that his fondest memories from high school were all of the senior activities he participated in, with some of these being the bonfire, homecoming activities, senior trips, etc. He also enjoyed the sports and clubs in which he was involved.

Jarod was a very involved student at Conemaugh Township and loved it so much that he decided to come back. Many of the teachers he had are still teaching here, so he is able to see them on a daily basis. He is very thankful for the memories Township gave him, and he wants other students to have fond memories as well.
