This year has flown by, and we are quickly looking at our last day on June 16th. Over the past month, we have had many things to celebrate. Students in kindergarten and 5th grade were able to visit the Quabbin Reservoir for fish stocking, we held our first annual Art Show, and I was once again hit in the face with a pie (our winning 5th graders memorized 71 digits!!!). Mrs. Serra pulled together an amazing 1st Annual Art Show, really showcasing all of the creativity and hard work our students have done all year. She worked incredibly hard, not only with the students all year, but also getting our show to be the wonderful one it was. I know her wheels are already turning, and she has some things up her sleeves for next year's show.

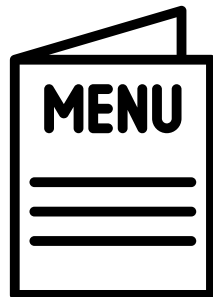

Fish Stocking

On April 14th we attended the Fish Stocking of the Quabbin Reservoir. PCS has been taking part in this event for over 20 years now with the help of DCR and Mass Wildlife. Students were able to listen to some of our state biologists explain the importance of the Quabbin Reservoir to our local wildlife, and why things like stocking fish and allowing fishing are important to the overall ecosystem. Our youngest students were paired up with some of our older friends and were able to take part by tossing fish into the water to release them.

The Counselor's Corner

The students at PCS have been going strong these last couple of months . They crushed it by becoming heart heroes, learned coping strategies to handle MCAS and life's stressors and have welcomed a new furry friend to the PCS family.

We are loving Gwendolyn joining Colby for Friday visits

Hawaiian leis and ocean sounds set the tone for our relaxing SEL class. Stations of journaling, coloring, fidgets and exercise were just some of tools used to find ways to help us unwind.

Students recognized for going above and beyond with their kindness and hard work .
