West Oso High School is excited to continue its commitment to college and career readiness by hosting its annual Career Day, an event designed to connect students with industry professionals and empower them to make informed decisions about their futures. This year, more than 70 speakers and presenters representing a wide range of fields—including business, technology, healthcare, and skilled trades—will engage with students to share insights on career pathways, educational requirements, and real-world workplace experiences.

Students will have the opportunity to explore a variety of career options while gaining valuable knowledge about the skills, training, and education needed for success in their areas of interest. In addition, 8th-grade students from West Oso Junior High School will participate, encouraging early career exploration and helping them begin to envision their post-secondary goals.

“We are grateful to offer our students a meaningful learning experience that connects the classroom instruction to real-world career opportunities,” said Kimberly Moore, Superintendent of Schools. “Career Day allows students to see how their education applies beyond the classroom, and I am very proud of our staff’s continued efforts and the strong support from our community partners in making this event a success.” Superintendent Moore also emphasized the value of early planning, stating, “It is important for students to start thinking about how their interests and talents can shape their future. Through Career Day, they gain a better understanding of how the skills they develop in high school can lead to successful college and career pathways.”

Career Day at West Oso High School reflects the district’s ongoing commitment to preparing students for college, careers, and life beyond graduation. By building meaningful connections between students and industry professionals, West Oso ISD continues to ensure that its graduates are equipped to thrive in an ever-changing workforce.
