National Pi Day- March 14th

Pi Day is celebrated annually on March 14th, since the date written numerically corresponds with the first three digits of π .

It is also coincidentally the birthday of Albert Einstein.

The ratio is beloved by math and science enthusiasts
for a reason:

- It's necessary to calculate the area and the volume of everything circular and spherical
- It allows humans to measure the sizes of tiny things, like molecules.
- It allows them to estimate the sizes of massive things, like Earth, the moon, other planets and the sun.
- Pi helps NASA engineers build spacecraft just as it helps scientists study newly discovered worlds.

Pi = 3.14
ratio
of circumference
of a circle to its diameter!
a repeating decimal
with no end and no
pattern.

...have fun CELEBRATING π DAY
