- The Law and Public Safety, and Security program prepares students to communicate effectively in professional settings. Students learn to share accurate information, speak clearly to inform or persuade others, and use employer-required languages when appropriate. They also develop teamwork skills by collaborating in person and online to complete tasks and achieve organizational goals. Through these experiences, students build personal strengths, respect the contributions of others, develop positive working relationships, handle information with care and sensitivity, and support diversity in the workplace. These skills will help students become successful in Law Enforcement occupations.
