Role Updates

Some familiar faces are stepping into new roles. Here's what you need to know...

Dr. Nicole Spiller Upper School Principal

After serving the past two years as a high school math teacher at JFCA, Dr. Spiller transitions into this leadership role with both a deep understanding of our school community and extensive experience in education at the school, district, and regional levels. Known for her intentional leadership, innovative approach to instruction, and commitment to teacher growth, she brings both vision and experience to our Upper School program.

As Upper School Principal, Dr. Spiller will provide dedicated leadership for grades 8–12, with a focus on student growth, academic excellence, and faculty support. She will work closely with teachers, students, and families to strengthen curriculum and instruction while fostering a positive culture that supports the spiritual, academic, and personal development of our students.

Angela Bumgarner EdTech Specialist

Angela has served JFCA in many meaningful roles over the years – first as a parent, then as a long-term substitute, and most recently as our elementary coding and technology teacher. This year, she is stepping into an additional role as Educational Technology Specialist, where she will support both staff and families in the use of Canvas and other educational technology tools.

With a background in computer science and technology, along with the unique perspective of being both a current JFCA parent and parent of an alumna, Angela brings a thoughtful and relational approach to this position. Her passion for supporting students and teachers, combined with her deep understanding of our school community, makes her exceptionally well-suited for this role.
