2024-25 Developer Fee
Annual Report

Government Code (GC) Section 65995 and California Education Code (EC) Section 17620 allow school districts to levy fees on residential and/or commercial/industrial projects within a school district's boundaries. These fees are known as 'developer fees' and/or 'school impact fees.' The State Allocation Board (SAB) sets the per-square-foot Level 1 school impact fees every two years. District staff collects school impact fees on residential and commercial/industrial development projects that are within the District's boundaries.

The Howell Mountain Elementary School District (District) is required by GC 66006 to file this annual informational report. The Code requires school agencies to disclose the amount of fees collected during the year, the interest earned on these funds, and how the total funds were expended.

Background:

On January 1, 1987, school districts were authorized to levy statutory developer fees on new residential and commercial/industrial developments. Originally set forth in GC Sections 53080 and 65995, Assembly Bill (AB) 2926, known as the 1986 School Facilities Legislation, granted school districts the right to levy fees. In 1998, Senate Bill (SB) 50 was passed creating a multi-level fee structure to allow fast-growing school districts to charge higher levels of fees if the districts could show a nexus between the growth, eligibility for state funding, and the need for additional student housing. These higher levels of fees are often referred to as Level II and Level III Fees, while the original fees authorized in 1987 are referred to as Level I Fees. The District collects only Level I fees, levied on housing construction and remodels. AB 516, effective January 1, 2024, expands the reporting requirements and increases transparency for individuals required to pay developer fees. This includes the right to request an audit, the right to request mailed notice of this annual report, and a link to the internet website where this report is available to review.

Government Code 66006 requires the annual report to contain the following information:

The district anticipates completion of a public improvement related to the expansion of TK, additional TK students, and their unique needs. The district will commence a TK restroom improvement in August 2025.
